

WORK HEALTH & SAFETY POLICY

1 Purpose

Forico is committed to achieving a zero-harm safety vision characterised by the tag line work safe, home safe. We believe that all incidents, injuries and occupational illnesses and harm are preventable and that we all must choose to work and operate safely. Our zero-harm vision extends to promoting positive mental health and general wellbeing. Forico expects all workers, including contractors, to contribute to the workplace such that:

- We value safety as the highest priority;
- We do not compromise safety for production;
- · We support each other, conscious of each other's mental health and general wellbeing;
- We commit to using tools, techniques and processes that best control hazards and keep us safe; and
- We foster a culture of working safely and safety focussed decision making.

2 Scope

The Work Health & Safety Policy applies to all staff, contractors and operations of Forico.

3 Procedural Principles

Forico is committed to the ongoing development and operation of its Safety, Health and Environment (SH&E) Management System which has been designed to continuously improve work health and safety practices through the application of the following principles.

Management is responsible for ensuring as far as is reasonably practicable that there is:

- Assigned WH&S accountabilities to identify responsibility for established safe work practices ensuring they are managed on a day-to-day basis;
- Adequate supervision and monitoring in the workplace along with the allocation of sufficient resources to safely perform work;
- Relevant training and instruction in the workplace;
- Compliance with relevant legislation and regulations, applicable Codes of Practice,
 Australian Standards and relevant best practice considerations;
- A process to conduct safety audits and workplace inspections;
- Identification of hazards, assessment of risk and implementation of appropriate control measures;
- Measurable objectives and targets and the regular review and evaluation of health and safety strategies and risk management programmes;
- Genuine consultation and communication with Workers;

- Appropriate consideration given to Worker's health and wellbeing ensuring that they are "fit for work":
- A system to fully investigate, close out, communicate and instil learnings from all reported hazards, injuries, incidents and near misses including those which caused or had the potential to cause injury, illness or compromise mental health and general wellbeing;
- Effective injury management through compliance with the principles of rehabilitation and return to work and approved policies and procedures;
- Appropriate security, personal and emergency equipment and procedures; and
- Agreement by all Workers to share Forico's commitment to continuous improvement in relation to managing Worker's health, safety and wellbeing.

Workers are responsible for ensuring that they:

- Take reasonable care for their own health, safety and wellbeing and that of others who may be affected by their actions;
- Comply with any reasonable instruction, policies and/or procedures;
- Ensure facilities and equipment provided are maintained and used in a safe manner;
- Actively participate in safety investigations, activities and training as required;
- Are always "fit for work" and proactively report any personal impairment prior to commencing work;
- Always wear prescribed personal protective equipment (PPE) required for the job;
- Identify and report all hazards, injuries, incidents and near misses as soon as practicable;
- Do not remove, bypass, interfere with or tamper with any safety device; ensuring effective isolation and lock out of plant and equipment;
- Do not bully, harass, discriminate, threaten, intimidate or assault others;
- Actively participate and comply with rehabilitation and return to work requirements; and
- Possess any required licences and competencies, complete relevant permits and follow all procedures relevant to the tasks performed.

Failure to comply with Forico's Work Health & Safety Policy may result in disciplinary action and/or removal from site.
